Dear Publisher,

Re. Social History Book Prize

The Social History Society has established an annual Book Prize (value £1,000) for the best book in Social History. The inaugural prize was awarded this year and was an amazing success. You can find more information about last year's prize winner on the Social History Society website.

To be eligible for consideration for the prize, the book must:

- be at least its author's second history book;
- be on any subject in social history;
- be an original and scholarly work of historical research;
- have been published in English during the calendar year 2017 (and dated 2017), by a scholar or up to three scholars collaborating as co-authors, and normally resident in the United Kingdom.

In addition, author or co-authors should also be members of the Social History Society at the time of the presentation of the award. Publishers are invited to nominate their books. (Please note authors cannot submit their own work.) To do so, please complete the form below and return to the following address along with one copy (non-returnable) of the eligible book by at your earliest convenience. Books and forms should be sent to Social History Society, Bowland College, Lancaster University, Lancaster, LA1 4YT, UK. The deadline for receipt of entries is 1st December 2018.

Should the book be shortlisted you will be notified, and three more copies will be required. The final award will be announced at our annual conference to be held from 10-12 June 2019 at the University of Lincoln. If you have any questions or queries, please contact the Society's administrator via our email address: socialhistorysoc@gmail.com. We look forward to receiving your nominations.

Yours sincerely,
